HOLD ON TO WHAT IS GOOD · LESSON 2

Ask Better Questions

Proverbs 18:15

> "The heart of the discerning acquires knowledge, for the ears of the wise seek it out."
> PROVERBS 18:15

Kids go through a phase of asking why, how, and what — and somewhere along the way many of us stop. But much of what we enjoy exists because someone before us dared to ask a better question: penicillin, gravity, relativity. Proverbs 18:15 says the heart of the discerning acquires knowledge, and the ears of the wise seek it out. The posture of wisdom is not "Let me find what is wrong with this," but "Let me understand this better." The Bereans of Acts 17:11 were open enough to listen and grounded enough to examine, and Scripture calls them noble for it. A faith that welcomes questions isn't weaker. Ask better questions, ask deeper questions, seek to understand — because questions lead to conversations, to investigating, to sharing, and someone in the kingdom gets blessed.

1 Aren't You Glad Someone Asked a Better Question?

CURIOSITY

Kids go through a phase of asking why, how, what. And much of what we enjoy exists because someone dared to ask a better question. Alexander Fleming noticed that mold had killed bacteria in one of his cultures and, instead of discarding it, investigated — penicillin. Isaac Newton wondered why an apple always fell straight toward the Earth — the start of gravity. Albert Einstein imagined traveling alongside a beam of light and questioned the assumptions about space and time.

2 Wisdom Is Curious Before It Is Critical

PROVERBS 18:15

The posture of wisdom is not, "Let me find what is wrong with this." It is, "Let me understand this better." Wisdom begins by asking, "What can I learn?"

3 People Find What They Really Seek

MATTHEW 6:33

Jesus says to seek first the kingdom of God. The Spanish word is buscar — not a casual glance, but really going after something because you want to find it. When Dad sent me to the tool shed for the garden hoe, I wasn't motivated. I didn't want to pull weeds, so I wasn't likely to find it. My sister was different with the Christmas presents. She wanted so badly to know what was inside that she kept looking until she found out. The difference wasn't the searching — it was the wanting. Whoever really wants to find something seeks it out, and finds it. A person who wants to seek first the kingdom will find it. God will make sure of that.

4 The Bereans: Open Enough to Listen, Grounded Enough to Examine

ACTS 17:11

They received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true. Questioning the preacher was called noble, and nobody in that church got lectured for asking. These Jews stood out because other Jews were not like this. A faith that welcomes questions isn't weaker — it's Berean.

5 Questions Lead Somewhere

YOUR TURN

Ask better questions. Ask deeper questions. Seek to understand. Questions lead to conversations, to investigating, to sharing — and someone in the kingdom gets blessed.

QUOTES

Wisdom is curious before it is critical.

The posture of wisdom is not, "Let me find what is wrong with this." It is, "Let me understand this better."

They were open enough to listen and grounded enough to examine.

A faith that welcomes questions isn't weaker.
